"GREENGOODS" MEN CAPTURED.

THEY HAD WORKED THEIR GAME ON A FLORIDA FARMER IN ARDSLEY, WEST-CHESTER, AND WERE CAUGHT

IN TARRYTOWN. By the arrest of two men in Tarrytown yesterday it is believed that the "greengoods" gang which has operated successfully in different parts of Westchester County in the last six months has been broken up. The men gave their names as Henry Berg and Albert Lawrence, and were captured by two local hackmen. Timothy Dwyer and George Breens, who turned them over to Police Sergeant Listman. The police then set to work to obtain evidence, and found the victim of the swindlers, M. A. Perry. Perry came all the way from Avoca, Fla. lanky fellow, a farmer by occupation, and looks to. He told his story to Chief of Police Nossiter as follows:

Some weeks ago these fellows started writing letters to me telling how I could make $5.000 for $700. Every time they wrote it was from a different place, and finally the inducements offered led me to agree to meet them. Accordingly, I left home on Tuesday and came to Philadelphia, where I met Lawrence, and we stayed at the Windsor Hotel overnight, where he registered as W. A. Parr. Yesterday we came to New-York and put up at Smith & McNell's, and this morning we came up to Ardsley on the New-York and Futnam road, and went to a hotel, where we met J. E. Breen and Henry Berg, who were introduced by Lawrence as his father and brother.

They took me upstairs and counted out $5.000 in

They took me upstairs and counted out $5,000 in $10 bills, which they said had been wrongly numbered, but had been tested by the Government and accepted as genuine. They were placed in a tin box, and after I gave Breen a draft for $700. drawn by the Cit zens' Fank, of Valdesa, $Ga$, on the Western National Bank, of New-York City, payable to my order, they gave me the box wrapped up in paper.

Then Breen suggested that he would better ex-Then Breen suggested that he would better express the box to Florida for Perry, as it would be dangerous for a stranger to carry that amount through a city filled with crooks like New-York. He would not part with the box, and said he would express it himself. Then the men left the hotel. Breen took a train for New-York, saying he was going down to get the draft cashed, while his confederates took charge of Perry. On a pretence of taking their victim to the nearest express office they boarded a train for Elmsford and then took a troiley car for Tarrytown. The trio went to the living resiaurant for dinner, where they aroused the suspicions of a New-York drummer. The drummer finished eating before they did and went across the street to the Central Railroad station, where he informed the hackmen. When they left the restaurant the men sent their victim to the station while they sneaked away. The hackmen induced Perry to open the box, which was done by means of a can opener. It was found that it contained only heavy pieces of cardboard. Then the hackmen started in pursuit of the swindlers and overtook them near the Archbold estate. In South Broadway, while they were walking to irvington. The men resisted, but the hackmen brought them back to the village and turned them over to the police.

Berg gave his address as No. 23 East Fourth-st. press the box to Fiorida for Perry, as it would be back to the village and turned them over to the poice.

Berg gave his address as No. 223 East Fourth-st. and Lawrence said he lived at Trainor's Hotel, in Sixth-ave. Manhattan. Chief Nossitter telephoned to the New-York police, and they sent back word that the men were unknown at those addresses. He also telephoned to the Western National Bank, ordering the payment on the draft stopped. The New-York police think they know Breen and are on his track. Berg and Lawrence were arraigned before Police Justice Charles McCutchen last evening. They waived examination and were held for the Grand Jury. It is believed that they belong to the gang who buncoed the men from Michigan and other States at the White Hotel, in Pelham, last summer. Perry is staying in Tarrytown to-night, awalting developments.

PRISON DEATH RATE LOW.

The committee of the New-York State Priso Association which has been conducting an exami-nation into the prisons of the State under an order of the Supreme Court closed its labors at Sing Sing Prison for this week yesterday. J. Sceley Ward, jr., presided. The grading under the classification system was especially taken up, the evidence tending to show that the number of convictions was the only basis upon which the men were classified—that there was no other as to criminal tendencies than that afforded by this test. Among the convicts examined one caused a ripple of amusement by the statement that he guessed that it was all based upon "them as wasn't found out." The Warden on being questioned as to the advantages of the grading system said that it was principally shaped to prevent criminal association and to give a man on first conviction a better of the prisoners. The low death rate was commented on, and from this important witness there was a strong condemnation of the use of tobacco in

Mr. Round conducted an examination as to the industries of the prison and the effect on the health and morals of the men. It was shown in the course of the Warden's examination that two hundred men were working at stonecutting, and there was work for three hundred on the premises for a considerable time in building the north wall and in other improvements. In order to do this, however, it will be necessary to establish a school for brickinging to get a sufficient number of brickingers, and to increase the instruction in stonecutting.

for brickinying to get a sufficient number of bricklayers, and to increase the instruction in stonecutting.

In the repairs made necessary by the fire, in the construction of new buildings, laying out of grounds, grading and other work it was shown that one-half of the prison population could be employed for several years. The supply of stone in the quarry is practically inexhaustible and generally of good quality. The dictary was considered at considerable length, and although there was no apparent evidence of an intention to feed the men according to scientific theories, good results as to health and energy were noticed. Dr. Irvine testified that there was much maiaris caused by the insufficient ventilation of the old prison.

The committee will resume its sittings in Manhattan, to consider the economic bearing on the labor question, and will examine as witnesses prominent prison officials and experts us well as purchasers of prison made goods.

CRAMP STRIKERS ARRESTED.

PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY MAKES A STATEMENT REGARDING THE PRES-ENT LABOR TROUBLES.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—Three of the striking employes of Cramps' shipyard, and John J. Keegan, business agent of the International Association of Machinists, and Frederick Counselman, treasurer of the machinists' organization, were to-day arrested and held in $2,000 ball each, charged with institute to rior. The strikers under arrest are there. citing to riot. The strikers under arrest are Hugh Boyd, Thomas Wilson and Joseph Melon.

The direct cause of the arrests was the refusal of the men to move away from the vicinity of the shipyard when ordered to do so by the police. The strikers assert that this move is made to offset the impending arrest of a Cramp superintendent for whom a warrant was issued last Tuesday. Later in the day the yard superintendent. Harry Mull, for whom a warrant was issued several days ago for whom a warrant was issued several days ago by Hugh Boyd, one of the strikers arrested to-day, surrendered himself and was held in $500 bail for court. Mr. Mull was charged with assaulting Boyd. Charles H. Cramp, president of the company, when discussing the situation to-day said:

when discussing the situation to-day said:

We are extremely sorry for the turn affairs have taken, resulting in the arrest of these men. Some of them had been with us a long time, as had the men they represent. We have no disposition to be harsh in the course we have mapped out.

For more than seventy years this concern has done business with its employes without the slightest interference from persons who for various reasons had quit work. Our payroll contains the names of some four thousand men, and these represent probably twenty thousand men, and these represent probably twenty thousand people. In season and out we have given fairly steady employment, and while other industrial districts in the city have shown signs of financial distress among the laboring classes, entailing municipal and charitable assistance, this locality has been self-supporting. Our employes have built and bought homes; their families have been comfortably clad and well fed without asking outside aid.

We do not propose at this late day to be molested by outside influences. The course we have determined to pursue is dictated because of our belief in the broad principle that every employer of labor is more competent to judge of the conditions incident to his affairs than an outsider.

We have no grievances against our men, and have never refuse to talk with them as individuals upon questions about which there might be a difference of opinion. We adhere to that policy to day, and every man who feels that he is wronged is accorded the privilege of a respectful hearing. On the other hand, we vigorously protest against times maintain the rights guaranteed to us by the

THE DAY'S OPERATIONS IN STOCKS.

Stock market speculation ran in favor of the operators for the decline yesterday. A number of active professional dealers started in several days ago to lower values, owing to the monetary situation, which, according to the official organs of bear manipulators, was approaching a condition where panic would develop. A certain number of enthusiastic commission house buyers, who disregarded the position of the money market and the active manipulation of rates, bought on recent occasions more stocks than their resources warranted, and in consequence they were either forced to sell or were frightened into selling in yesterday's market. But the people who sold were not substantial owners of stocks. Substantial holders added to their lines, and the short interest was increased to an extent that suggests the advisability of extreme caution in further operations for lower prices. Bear attacks on the market were based upon the expectation of a poor bank statement to-day, and from the depression of spirits that appeared to come from this expectation it was assumed by some people of clouded understanding that a monetary crisis was at hand.

The crisis will come for stock market bears if they continue to sell stocks short on the belief that current monetary conditions will lead to extensive liquidation among capitalists and large and small investors. Owners of securities know that money has left New-York in large volume because of trade activity. The larger capitalists, who are the largest holders of stocks and bonds, know that factors governing the money market are not conducive to extensive speculation in securities at the moment, but despite this they are willing to take all the stocks that bear traders may wish to sell, while Dr. J. G. Phelps Stokes conducted a long exami- they are satisfied that a temporary setback in nation of Dr. Irvine, the prison physician, as to the sanitary condition of the prison and the health weaken it. Traders were the chief sellers in shorts will be forced to become investors at advancing prices if they continue their stupid policy of arraying themselves against the market forces which hold the trump card in the game that is now being played. It should not assumed by the small public trader that the carbon prices if they continue their stupid do not advancing prices if they continue their stupid do not advancing prices if they continue their stupid do not advancing prices if they continue their stupid do not not advancing prices if they continue their stupid do not not policy of arraying themselves against the market forces which hold the trump card in the game that is now being played. prices will immediately advance, and that big margins are unnecessary; but he can safely assume that on every reaction the position of the short interest will become more dangerous, and that the forces underlying the market will at no remote period exert a decided influence upon the movement of values.

The stock market is not honeycombed with weak accounts. If technical conditions were weak the decline that began on Thursday afternoon would result in a severe break in values on extensive speculative liquidation. The great trade activity of the country is not being checked by a speculators' famine in money. It may be disappointing for patient holders of stocks to note the slowness with which money market factors are working in favor of higher market values, but they have the satisfaction of knowing that the current position of the money market is due to causes which are increasing the actual worth of their securities. The monetary outlook is not as black as bear traders paint it. The banks are below the socalied legal reserve, but they hold in cash, according to last week's statement of averages, $18.8628,700, while the country at large holds $97,140,366 more than it did this time a year ago—this is exclusive of Federal Treasury hold—loss of the short interest will become more dangerous, and the pref. 10 pref. 12 pref. 10 pref. 12 pref. 10 pref. 12 ago-this is exclusive of Federal Treasury hold-

CHARACTER OF TRADING. Professional bears discovered yesterday that there were certain vulnerable spots in the market, and, assisted by money market manipulation, they succeeded in forcing the liquidation of weakly held ceeded in forcing the liquidation of weakly held stocks, while encouraging heavy sales for the short account. Declines were general throughout the list, but they did not represent investment liquida-tion. In Leather stock an absence of support was responsible for a further decline. Subsequently the stock railied 4 points on buying by J. S. Bache & Co., R. H. Bissell, A. Hunter and I. & S. Wormser. The numbral sallers were W. C. Stokes Wormser. The principal sellers were W. C. Stokes and Wells, and Herrick & Hicks. There was also considerable selling of a scattering nature. It was the last day on which deposits of stock could be made under the proposed plan of readjustment. Sugar and Manhattan sold off sharply. American Steel and Wire was a firm feature; also Norfolk and Western common. As a rule the industrials were weak, at declines of a point or more, while the local traction shares were heavy without apparent support. Stop loss orders were executed in many issues, and bear traders were active in hunting out all soft points. The close was above the lowest of the day.

MONEY MARKET FACTORS.

Various estimates were made yesterday regardin the probable changes in bank holdings for th week, and all estimates agreed that the cash hold day's figures. This column makes no prediction about to-day's showing. It suggests, however, that the showing may be an agreeable surprise to stock speculators. Call money was as high as 15 per cent yesterday, closing at 3 per cent. The time money market continues firm at 6 per cent for all periods up to six months. A good demand is reported, but offerings are said to be light. The commercial paper market is quiet but steady. Some prime material is coming on the market and is being disposed of. Rates are 5½ per cent for prime indorsad bills receivable, 5½ 65% per cent for high grade single names and 6 per cent and upward for other good names.

BREAK IN STERLING EXCHANGE. The most important incident in the banking community yesterday was the break in sterling ex-change rates Actual sight bills and cables de-clined %c from Thursday and actual sixty day clined &c from Thursday and actual sixty day bills &c. Posted rates were reduced. The market is now only &c above the point at which New-York drew $2,000,000 gold from London early in October, and indications in yesterday's market favored a further decline and possible gold imports. Bankers' bills were freely offered, but the supply of cotton bills increased substantially. London took a precautionary measure against gold exports to this country by advancing its price for bar gold while London discounts were higher. Foreign spinners are beginning to buy American cotton. Their purchases have been withheld until now, owing to the suspicion entertained abroad that the advance that began in cotton last summer was purely speculative. They have since learned that they will have to take American cotton at higher prices, and their purchases will therefore make a large amount of sterling exchange.

AMERICAN MALTING BOND ISSUE.

to its stockholders, offering them the privilege of subscribing to the bonds of the company, states that the amount of the mortgage recently authorized is $5,000,000. It is to run fifteen years and bears 6 per cent interest. All of the real estate of the company is placed under the morigage, except about $500,000 worth, which it intends to sell be-cause it is not needed for the purposes of the company. The only encumbrances upon the property are mortgages aggregating $371,000 upon four of the thirty-six malting plants. Besides those plants the company owns thirty-eight elevators in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and New-York States. The sinking fund provision of the mortgage is that simultaneously with the declaration of any dividend upon the preferred stock, a sum equal to one-half of such dividend shall be set apart for the purchase of the bonds at the lowest price obtainable, not of the bonds at the lowest price obtainable, not exceeding 105 and interest, or they may be drawn by lot at the same price, and all such bonds shall be cancelled. The company has the option of retiring the entire issue at 105 and interest upon twelve weeks' notice. Bonds to the amount of $4,000,000 are offered to both common and preferred stockholders at 95 and interest, each holder being entitled to subscribe to the extent of 15 per cent of his holdings.

The following were yesterday elected officers of the American Malting Company; President, Charles A. Stadler; first vice-president and general manager, Charles A. Purcell; second vice-president and treasurer, Joseph P. Ord; general superintendent of sales department, Seymour Scott.

These committees were appointed; Finance Committee-Robert N. Galloway, John G. Jenkins and Joseph P. Ord. Executive Committee-Adam Neld. linger, Seymour Scott and Frederick Uhlmann. Trade Committee-Charles A. Purcell, Robert Nunnemacher, Charles Sohngen, D. D. Weschler and Alexander M. Curtiss.

NORFOLK AND WESTERN.

The firmness of Norfolk and Western common stock in the face of the declining tendency of the general market caused considerable comment yesterday. Recent reports of earnings of the Norfolk and Western company have brought out the fact that the common stock is seiling far under its actual worth, as earnings indicate that for the year 4 per cent will be earned, in addition to the 4 per cent on the preferred. If the company's earnings did not increase a single dollar in the rest of the year 2 per cent would be shown on the common. It is evident that this issue is being absorbed by a powerful class of buyers, and it may be said on authority that within the last month one of the most important banking houses in the Street has been steadily absorbing the stock. Norfolk and Western is a reorganized property, the interest charges of which have been cut down to the sarnings of lean years. The company's management is as able as any railway manag the country. Norfolk and Western is a r will handle an immense coal and iron tr

FURTHER RISE IN SILVER.

The commercial price of bar silver was advanced again yesterday, both in the local and vanced again yesterday, both in the local and London market. On the Stock Exchange silver certificates advanced % cent to 60%, while the open market price for bars was 59½, against 58% on Tuesday. In London silver builtin closed at 275-16d, against 26%d on Monday. Local dealers believe that the advance is due to a natural recovery incident to an increased demand. A leading dealer said yesterday that much silver would be coined by the British Government for the use be coined by the British Government for the use of its troops in South Africa, and an additional large amount was desired for coinage into British dollars, which would be put into circulation in China, replacing Mexican silver dollars, and he added that New-York bankers were also buying silver extensively for the account of Indian and Chinese bankers. Two weeks ago Pixley & Abell's London circular announced that the silver markets tendency was weak, and lower prices could be expected. Since that time however, the London market has risen nearly id. Recent shipments of silver from this port have been light and well under the record of this time a year ago. London exports to India, however, have been for the year to date $2,900,000 over the same period in 1898, while its exports to China have increased $2,700,000.

A TABLE OF RAILWAY EARNINGS.

"The Bond Euye" of New-York" has prepared and is publishing weekly an elaborate table of rallroad earnings in a form which ought to interest all railroad officials, bankers and brokers and all dealers and investors in railroad bonds and stocks. It gives the earnings by weeks, months, quarters and years, and from the beginning of the fiscal year down to the date of the latest official re port obtainable. Comparisons with corresponding periods of the previous years are shown in separate columns of increases or decreases, and these two columns stand out clearly, showing at a glance what roads are increasing and what lines are showing decreased earnings. In a table of over twelve wide columns, giving reports of over two hundred different roads, the column of decreases is gratifyingly bare of figures. By the novel arrangement comparisons are shown not only for the corresponding periods of 1838, but for the immediately preceding weeks, months and quarters also. The issue for November II, just out, contains a record of the earnings of sixty-eight roads for the first quarter of the present fiscal year, from which it appears that the gross earnings for July, August and September, 1859 (325,060,000) exceeded the earnings of the same roads for the same quarter of 1898 by over $30,400,000. periods of the previous years are shown in separate

CLEARING HOUSE COMMITTEE. A meeting of the Clearing House Committee was held yesterday afternoon and rumors were current in Wall Street that it had been called for the purpose of taking action upon an important matter, Members of the committee declared after the meeting, however, that only routine business had been transacted.
